TASK 2

Read a short biography about Michelle Obama. Decide if the statements below are True (T) or False (F) and put a cross (X) in the correct column in the statements box. The first statement (0) is an example.

Michelle Obama

Born on January 17th 1964, Michelle Robinson was raised in a one-bedroom apartment on Chicago's South Shore. She shared a "bedroom" with her brother, although it was actually the living room with a divider in the middle. Michelle's father died in 1990, two years before she married Barack, but her mother is still alive and living in the same one-bedroom apartment, protected by a burglar-proof iron door and secured windows.

After high school, Michelle Robinson studied sociology at Princeton University, graduating with cum-laude honours in 1985. From there she attended Harvard, where she got her law degree in 1988.

After graduating from Harvard, Michelle accepted a position at a Chicago law firm. In 1989 her supervisor asked her to help a summer student from Harvard: Barack Obama. According to reports, Barack didn't have much interest in corporate law, but he did have a lot of interest in Michelle.

Apparently, Michelle Robinson initially rejected Barack because they were working at the same firm and because she was his superior, but love prevailed and they were married on October 18, 1992.

Interestingly, Barack and Michelle waited almost seven years before having children.

Their first daughter, Malia Ann Obama, was born on July 4, 1999, and Natasha (often called "sasha") came two years later, on June 10, 2001.

When journalists asked about why she fell in love with Barack, she replied "for the same reason many others respect him: his connection with people."

Although her husband is the centre of attention, Michelle is not worried about fidelity in their marriage. She told Ebony magazine on March 1st 2006, "I never worry about things I can't change, and if somebody comes between us, then we didn't have much in common to begin with."
