

Katy Perry

Katheryn Elizabeth Hudson was born in 1984 in Santa Barbara, California. Her parents were pastors and she was incorporated into their ministry singing in the church between the ages of nine and seventeen. She grew up listening to gospel music.

In 2007, she signed with Capitol Records and adopted her current stage name. Perry's commercial breakthrough came once she released her first mainstream studio album 'One of the Boys' in 2008.

Perry remains the only artist to spend 69 consecutive weeks in the top ten of the Hot 100.

What happened on these dates?

In 1984: _____

In 2007: _____

In 2008: _____